THE DREAM TEAM COLLAB

HELLO THERE!

About us!

Hi! I am Soph and I am the wedding content creator part of the collab. I am also a 2024 bride to be! I am such a sentimental person and know how important it is to capture behind the scenes, candid and unscripted moments. I know how precious these memories can be later in life to look back on and remember the day and your loved ones who shared that with you.

I am there to be your bridal bestie, your ride or die for your special day! To calm your nerves, cheer you on or get everyone on the dance floor. Whether you want the content to post after your big day on social media or just have for yourself to relive your day over and over again! I've got you covered!! I will capture raw footage (photos & videos) on my iPhone 14 Pro max of everything to the finest detail. Meaning you can be completely present in every moment of your day. You go make the memories and I'll capture them forever!

Gideon & Sidney is an award-winning wedding videography team based in the southeast of England.

Marcus and Jordan (aka Gideon & Sidney), met while studying for a Bachelor's in Film Studies at the University of Kent in September of 2016. After three years of studying and living together, they decided to put their newly learned visual storytelling knowledge to the test and began voluntarily filming local weddings in their hometowns of Sudbury, Suffolk and Royal Tunbridge Wells, Kent. Having gained much experience over a short period gave Marcus & Jordan the hunger to develop and venture further into the world of weddings.

In early 2019, they formally began operating under the name of Gideon & Sidney (both Marcus & Jordan's middle names). Since then, they have attended over 100 weddings spanning across the entirety of the UK and in some cases abroad. This stands as a testament to their love for capturing stories and bringing them to light in the form of moving pictures. Almost five years on, they've received numerous awards and accolades from fellow peers and bodies of the UK's wedding/event industries. The team at Gideon & Sidney delicately weaves together the cherished moments of each couple's special day, creating timeless masterpieces that retain memories for a lifetime.
